Minutes 9 June 2022, 12pm

- 1) Apologies: None. There were 31 actual attendees.
- 2) Minutes of 2021 AGM: approved. These minutes are available to download from the SASC website.
- 3) Matters Arising: none
- 4) Chair's Report (Lynn Greenwold, SASC Chair)

Welcome to this 2022 AGM.

Once again, I would like to begin by reviewing who we are and what we do. SASC and its subcommittees are a collaborative group of professionals working in a similar field to agree standards of practice. No single organisation or individual dominates. SASC represents multiple professional organisations and training organisations across the UK and includes representatives from these organisations as well as expert independent assessors on its decision-making Board. Members of the SASC board, STEC and other subcommittees contribute their time voluntarily.

STEC, the SASC Test Evaluation Committee, a key sub-committee, reviews and pilots tests, produces guidance on the standardisation, reliability, validity, advantages and disadvantages of those tests, and consults with publishers, academics and practitioners:

- To ensure that use and selection of tests is evidence based and follows best practice.
- To promote quality and consistency in assessment across all age groups.

SASC and STEC strive to bring about change through consensus. Decisions and guidance go through a consultation process with the organisations involved in SASC and where possible with a wider audience of individual practitioners, academics and tutors.

*SASC's work has involved four key elements:

- First, to maintain a publicly accessible list of qualified assessors.
- Second, to identify a selection of tests that can be used by appropriately trained and qualified professionals, alongside guidelines for practice and training.
- Third, to propose standards and a code of practice for all those involved in assessments including the production of reports in an agreed and accessible format.
- As one of the DfES' Working Group's 'overall aims' was to establish evidential requirements that (organisations) could confidently regard as providing a reliable professional judgement that a student has a SpLD(s),
- the fourth area of work was to support the implementation of updated guidance around the assessment of SpLDs, providing advice about identifying, assessing and referring students with any of the named SpLDs.

The fourteen (14) current Directors include senior members of four different professional bodies for Specialist Teacher Assessors the British Dyslexia Association (BDA), The Dyslexia Guild and The Professional Association of Teachers of Students with Specific Learning Difficulties (PATOSS,) the Association of Dyslexia Specialists in Higher Education ADSHE, psychologists, assessors and trainers. Representatives from the British Psychological Society and ACHIPP [association of child psychologists in private practice] also attend meetings, contributing to discussions and liaising with their organisations.

Joining the board this year is Sarah Bevan as Patoss representative with Jen McDermott as independent. Both have extensive experience in assessment at primary and secondary levels. Standing down from the board is Lia Castiglione who we thank for her positive contributions. Current board members are listed at the end of this report.

We have initiated regular monthly meetings to review queries received.

SASC continues its core remit by working in a highly collegiate way to ensure that best assessment practice is available and maintained.

*SASC continues to review its range of guidance to keep it up to date and has just issued Guidance on the Assessment and Identification of Autism / Autism Spectrum Conditions. This guidance was presented by Dr Sue Sheppard as part of this year's annual conference and the recording of that webinar, along with our other presentations from the Conference programme this year, are available to members free of charge until the 1st of July. Details will be sent to members.*

Since January 2021, SASC has been working to produce a consultation paper on key issues in the diagnostic assessment. In May of this year SASC invited all interested individuals and organisations to respond to this consultation paper via an open online survey. The consultation has provided an opportunity to reflect on practice, discuss the issues and ideas covered in the paper and explore what potential changes to working and assessment practices might be beneficial and why. There are other groups with a similar mission and it is important in our view to bring everyone together to avoid confusion if possible.

Key areas explored in this review and the results of this consultation are the subject of a number of webinars at this year's conference.

Members of the group:

they have developed in those counties. Janet Goring, who leads the Literacy & Numeracy Support Service to primary and secondary schools in the London Borough of Wandsworth has given a talk to the group around her experiences of a further commonly found model for literacy support and assessment in UK schools, i.e. the contracted-in service. Dr Margaret Crombie Specialist teacher-assessor, member of the Cross-Party Group of the Scottish Parliament on Dyslexia, and Carol Graham, Principal Teacher of Additional Support Needs in a military boarding school in Scotland.

Planned work for 2022-2023

- SASC response to SEND Green Paper.... by July 2022
- Structured discussions with practitioners and stakeholders. December 2022.
- Further liaison with BPS working groups. September-December 2022
- A redraft of the consultation paper, re-wording the proposed definition and diagnostic criteria for dyslexia. November 2022 - April 2023
- Launch new SASC website making more accessible with information easier to find.
- Continue to review current guidance.

To consider:

1. A protocol for a shorter report format for assessors carrying out formative/interim assessments in schools?
2. A protocol for a shorter report format for an optional post-16 re-assessment?
3. Guidance for independent assessors on opportunities for establishing closer links with schools.
4. Guidance on how to characterise profiles that do not meet the diagnostic criteria for dyslexia.

I would like to thank all members of the SASC board, STEC and our Cross-Standardisation committee as well as all the advisors who have contributed to our consultations and policy development. They have given so generously of their time, and expertise. And you, our members, who through your communications bring issues to be explored. Working together we strengthen guidance and standards in assessment practice and training.

Once again, I want to invite others to join in supporting our consultations and developing practice. Please write to us with your interests.

5) Treasurer's report: (Julia Kender, SASC Treasurer)

We are awaiting approval of the final year accounts for 2021 -2022 from our accountant we are not able to present these to you today. However, once the accounts received, subject to formal approval by the board, they will be made available to members and will be filed at Companies House.

I will return to a give a brief summary of the financial position as of March 31st, 2022, but I want to first inform members of a situation that arose in April 2022.

Unfortunately, SASC was subject to significant fraudulent activity and monies were placed in and removed from the SASC account by unauthorised parties. This breach was vigorously pursued with the bank concerned and an extraordinary meeting of the board was called to inform board members that such a breach had taken place.

The matter has been resolved and all funds restored to the SASC account and security procedures have been reviewed.

So, to return to 2021 -2022 finances.

The major expenditure for the year has been the rebuild of the website at a build cost of £34,085. The work is near completion, and it is hoped that the website will be live by the Autumn.

There is roughly 2K less income (£34,350) than expenditure (£36,542) but the healthy balance from 2021 (£57,000) has given SASC a robust year end figure (£46,367).

6) STEC Report: (read by Julia Kender, STEC Vice-Chair on behalf of Rachel Simpson, STEC Chair)

Aims for 2021-2022

- To review new and updated tests when relevant
- To write and publish guidance on tests that have been added to the lists.
- To update the test list annually for publication in June.
- To continue working with SASC on updating guidance on aspects of selecting and using tests within diagnostic assessments.

Test Lists

The pre-16 and post-16 test lists have been updated to include new tests reviewed this year and further clarification of some points in the FAQs. The updated lists were uploaded to the SASC website shortly before the AGM, with all changes highlighted in yellow.

Test reviews

The following tests have been approved for inclusion on the Test Lists:

Developmental Test of Visual Perception 3rd Edition (DTVP3) has been added to the Pre-16 Test List.

Developmental Test of Visual Perception Adolescent and Adult 2nd Edition (DTVP-A:2) has been added to the Pre-16 and Post-16 Tests Lists.

Feifer Assessment of Writing (FAW) has been added to the Pre-16 and Post-16 Tests Lists

Intelligence and Development Scales Second Edition has been added to the Pre- 16 and Post-16 Tests Lists

Test of Basic Arithmetic and Numeracy (TOBANS) has been added to the Pre-16 and Post-16 Tests Lists

The following changes to guidance or qualification level should be noted:

Woodcock-Johnson® IV Tests of Cognitive Abilities (WJ IV™ COG): In the light of further experience of using this battery of tests, WJIV Cog has been added to the Phonological Processing section of the Post-16 Test List, and the advice has changed on which Fluid Reasoning/Non-Verbal Ability subtests to use as core tests. The updated guidance was published on the SASC website in February 2022.

Wechsler Individual Achievement Test - Third UK Edition (WIAT®-III UK): The qualifications code for this test changed to Level B in Autumn 2021 to align it more closely to the qualification levels required in USA, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Queries about tests and guidance

STEC continues to assist SASC with responding to queries about tests.

STEC committee members have also participated in the ongoing discussions and consultations relating to SASC's "Guidance on the identification of and effective intervention for literacy difficulties in children and adults. Implications for the assessment of dyslexia".

Committee members

STEC's workload continues to increase and STEC will be advertising for new Psychologist members plus Psychologists and Specialist Teacher Assessors who have expertise in assessing numeracy and mathematics skills. There have been no changes to committee membership this year.

Aims for 2022-2023

- To review new and updated tests when relevant
- To write and publish guidance on tests that have been added to the lists.
- To update the test list annually for publication in June.
- To continue working with SASC on updating guidance on aspects of selecting and using tests within diagnostic assessments.
